2027 GROUP TOURS

At Jolly's Mill Pond Farm, we teach history with food

Our hands-on classes explore the Black and Indigenous culinary heritage of our farm and region – from the original gristmill to our market garden. Just 20 minutes from downtown Williamsburg.

Every class is a tasting journey through history.

Angi Kane
Taste Local History Creator

Atlas Obscura · AJC · taste of the south · VISIT WILLIAMSBURG JAMESTOWN YORKTOWN

Up to 25	2 hours	April-December	10am & 2:30pm
Guests per session	Class length	Tuesday - Sunday	Class times

OPERATOR INFO

These are active classes for all ages. May include up to 1 mile of walking.

- Class, tastings and take-home items all-included
- Complimentary motorcoach driver and 1 escort per 25 guests
- Tastings equal a light lunch
- Vegetarian and nut-free options with 7 days' notice
- Covered tent as a weather backup
- 25% deposit to confirm the date
- Full refund up to 30 days before the visit
- Certificate of insurance upon request
- Book 60 days ahead; shorter notice by request. We reply within 1 business day.

Our classes can also be led at conferences, special events or corporate lunch-and-learns.

Fits Your Historic Triangle Itinerary

- Colonial Williamsburg
- Yorktown
- Jamestown Settlement
- Freedom Park

OUR CLASSES INCLUDE

Native plants and trees historically used by Black & Indigenous communities

From chocolate's Indigenous origins in Mesoamerica to an enslaved chocolatier in Colonial Virginia.

From Indigenous roots to George Washington and their link to our gristmill.

visit@jollysmillpond.com | https://www.jollysmillpond.com/groups
757-741-8663 | @JOLLYSMILLPOND